

Steve Fox

Steve Fox is the CEO of ThinkImpact. He's been in the role since taking over the founder, Saul Garlick in 2015. At ThinkImpact, Steve helps the team manage a portfolio of nearly 200 social enterprises, at varying growth stages, in sectors ranging from agriculture and health, to tech and education. Since taking over ThinkImpact, he has launched a number of initiatives to capture the growth of enterprises while providing robust technical assistance.

Steve comes from an international investment background previously serving as a Managing Director at Sunizorro Investments in sub-Saharan Africa. At Sunizorro, he directed a portfolio of venture capital companies in renewable energy, mobile tech and agriculture working in Malawi, Zambia and Mozambique. Much like ThinkImpact, Steven's work at Sunizorro encouraged local stewardship of private enterprise bolstered by niche international expertise. He has an MSc in Political Economy from the University of London, School for Oriental and African Studies, and a BA in International Economics from the University of Richmond. He is passionate about ocean health, Boston sports teams and meeting people from every country in the world. He and his wife Erin met in Malawi and live in constant quarrel over the virtues of Corgis or Great Danes.
